Will the person into whose hands this Report comes read it carefully. It will show what a noble work the Hospital is accomplishing, without any religious distinctions. Its object is to help the respectable sick poor, free of charge, and with as little red tape as possible. It has a few pay rooms, but two-thirds of its work are entirely gratuitous. Can you not help it? By founding a bed $4,000. By supporting a bed $300 a year. By contributions of any amount toward the building fund or the current expenses. Any gifts will be gladly received by the President, the Rev. Clinton Locke, 2324 Prairie avenue, or the Treasurer, Mr. N. K. Fairbank, 61 Wabash avenue.

THE REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF ST. LUKE'S HOSPITAL AND ST. LUKE'S FREE HOSPITAL, FROM OCT. 1, 1880, TO OCT. 1, 1881.

The hospital year begins and ends on St. Luke's Day, Oct. 18th, and on that day the election of Trustees is generally held; but of late years the reading of the reports and the public addresses have been made at a meeting held on the Sunday nearest to St. Luke's Day, in order to secure a larger gathering of people; and the election of Trustees alone is held on the day fixed by charter. The Trustees never made their annual report with such thankful hearts and with such hopeful prospects as they do this one. We have done so much work, the money necessary to do it has been so easily procured, the work has been so quietly done, and the benefactions made us have been so great that we would be ungrateful indeed to our God and Father if we did not publicly acknowledge it.

The account of the work done will be found in the Report of the Medical Board, and of the spiritual work in the Report of the Chaplain. The Treasurer's Report shows the sources of our receipts and the nature of our expenditures. The expenses, as will be seen, are much larger than ever before. It is easily accounted for. We owed nearly $3,000 at the beginning of the year; this has been paid. The prices of things have been very much higher, and, above all, we have done far more work. Two hundred and eighty-six patients cared for in the house last year; this year three hundred and eighty-four. Deducting the debt of last year, each patient has cost us about $1.04 a day, which compares favorably with other hospitals of a similar character. It will be remembered that we are not doing our work in a well-appointed building replete with every modern convenience, but in an old wooden structure, ill adapted for our needs and costing a great deal to keep in order. The same force could do far more work in a proper building. Such a building is no longer a remote possibility. It is to be immediately commenced, and the Trustees gratefully put on record the steps which have been taken in preparation for it during the past year. Mr. N. K. Fairbank, our Treasurer, and ever our faithful friend, presented us with one hundred feet of ground, immediately adjoining our present hospital property on Indiana avenue, for which he paid $10,000. This gives us a frontage of 164 feet on Indiana avenue. Moved by his generosity, and for the most part on his personal solicitation, other charitable people have contributed $20,750 for the purchase of land on Michigan avenue, immediately in the rear of the hospital. Seventy feet have been purchased there at a cost of $15,000. The special assessments for improving both streets, amounting to $2,702.65, have been paid, and there is now on hand toward a building fund $3,047.35. A list of the subscribers to this building fund is appended to this report. We shall proceed to sell our property on State and Fontaine streets, and hope to realize about $20,000 from that. With these moneys, and funds which we doubt not our fellow-citizens will cheerfully contribute, we expect to commence as soon as practicable the erection of the first of a series of buildings, which, when all completed, will form a noble hospital of which not only our church but our city may well be proud. It will be built on the present site, for experience has shown us that its central situation, its proximity to the lake and the railways, make it in every way desirable. The executive building and the principal front of the new hospital will be upon Michigan avenue, and we intend to make it an ornament to that fine street.

A new and much larger hospital will call for far greater contributions. Let it be the effort of every one interested in this noble and Christian work to redouble his own interest and to secure that of some one else.

The support of beds seems to make great progress. We have now three endowed ones; the Minnie Memorial, the Churchman's Cot, and the Bed for Incurables. The endowment of another—the Sewing Woman's Cot—is all ready, and is waiting only the return from Europe of the lady who so kindly collected it, to be offered on the altar of the Hospital Chapel and paid over to the Treasurer. Besides these, the following persons and churches have supported beds: that is, have given $300 a year for that definite purpose: Unity Church, Ascension Church, Mrs. P. D. Armour, Dr. T. Wheeler, Mr. Field, Wm Holmes, John DeKoven, Helen DeKoven, Jr., J. K. Fisher, N. K. Fairbank, and Mrs. W. F. Whitehouse, E. B. Sheldon, Jr., J. K. Fisher, N. K. Fairbank, and E. C. Larned, W. E. Larned. Mr. Alex. Leith sent us $500, but did not specify any particular bed. The Trustees recommend this mode of giving very earnestly. It is a beautiful memorial of a departed friend, and the smallest congregation in the city could undertake it. Large donations in kind have also been received, the details of which will be given in this report. The Trustees tender their heartfelt thanks to the physicians and surgeons of the Medical Board for their unremitting labors, so kindly and gratuitously rendered, and put on record once more their many obligations to the excellent Maroon, Miss Miles. They cannot close this report without expressing their deep sorrow at the loss the hospital has this year sustained in the deaths of Dr. M. O. Heydock and Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson. Both were devoted to this cause, both freely gave their time and their influence, and both have left blanks which will not easily be filled. The Trustees hope that the interest of the Church and of the general public will not slacken,

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

The Chaplain begs leave to report:

Baptisms, infants	14

Holy Communion in chapel	12

A daily service consisting of a portion of Holy Scripture, the Creed, the Lord's Prayers, and a Collect, has been said after morning and evening meals throughout the year, in the hall, within hearing of all patients in the wards.

The Litany has been said on Wednesdays and Fridays in the chapel at 4 P. M. Being unable to maintain the musical portion of the daily service this year, the Litany has been found more available in calling forth responses from the patients and others attending the service.

The Sunday services at the same hour have been continued as in previous years, and the musical portions have been chiefly rendered by the various members of the same family, whose interest in all the work of the Hospital seems to grow with their growth, and strengthen with their strength.

In these services, and in his spiritual ministrations to patients, the chaplain feels that he has had to encounter difficulties inseparable from a work conducted among such heterogeneous and constantly changing subjects as are the patients of any hospital. He will look in vain who expects to see much of the fruit of his labors on this side of Paradise.

In the name of all the patients, and of all who are friends of the Hospital, the chaplain takes this occasion to offer a humble tribute of sincere gratitude to the "Sisters of St. Luke's," the lady visitors and other friends in city and country, for their ever-increasing interest in the work of the Hospital, manifested so evidently during the past year; to the ladies of the Flower Mission, whose gentle words and sweet floral offerings have made them ever-welcome visitors; to those young ladies who have so thoughtfully gone from ward to ward singing sweet songs of Zion, and speaking gracious words of sympathy and cheer, and to those who have devoted themselves especially to the "children's ward," earning thereby the beaming and joyous welcome of suffering children; to the Medical Board, the Resident Physician, the Maron, nurses, and other helpers in the good work of the Hospital, for their faithfulness and zeal in the discharge of the duties of their several stations; to the proprietors of the "Living Church," the "Churchman," the "Anglo-Catholic," the "Church Eclectic," the "Chicago Tribune," the "Evening Journal," the "Inter-Ocean," the "Illinois Staats-Zeitung," the "Skandinavien," the "Gamla och Nya Hemlandet," and the "Svenska Tribunet," for free copies of their publications; and to various railroad and express companies for continued favors.

For the friends of the Hospital and its work, one and all, children or adults, near or far away, we would earnestly pray that the same loving kindness and tender mercy which they have shown to others may follow them all the days of their lives, even as "the goodness and mercy of God" followed the sweet singer of Israel.

From official report just presented, you at once see the increase in the number of patients cared for at St. Luke's Hospital during the year past. With what difficulty and additional labor this work has been attended, none of you, excepting those who are constant visitors of the Hospital, can have any conception. Our crowded condition from month to month is almost unendurable; not a vacant bed, and much of the time using from six to fifteen cots for those patients who are able to care for themselves during the day. Rooms have been remodeled, closets removed, so as to secure every inch of available space; the store room and package room of our patient matron has been encroached upon, and even the attic invaded; but with the utilizing of every nook and corner we are constantly obliged to close our doors upon a portion of that large class of persons abounding in every city who, in sickness and distress, can only find in a Free Hospital the attention they so much need.

Letters are received almost daily asking admission to St. Luke's; many calls are made by ladies personally interested in the Hospital, and in those for whom they seek shelter and relief. They urge us to "make room for just this case." The house being full to repletion, we are obliged to refuse. With all this increase, only two persons have been added to our working force, an assistant interne to the Hospital and a night watchman, who also acts in the capacity of night nurse.

Such being the condition during the past year, you can readily perceive the additional labor that has been imposed upon all, from the matron to the most humble of the employees. The crowded condition of the wards and rooms make the keeping of them in order, the dressing of patients and the furnishing of meals most difficult; yet this all has been accomplished by our faithful matron and the attendants without murmur, and as to the excellence with which it has been executed, many of you can testify.

As to the physicians in the various departments, they have labored on as best they could; meeting one difficulty after another, as it arose, but the one, and most important of all, to both doctor and patient, they have not been able to overcome, and that is, the constantly crowded condition of the wards. It has been impossible on that account, to surround their patients with such hygienic influences as are essential in all cases, and in some, positively imperative, and without such influences, the best skill of the most eminent of men, with a large per centage, proves unavailing. Time will not permit me to speak in detail upon this subject, but the importance of it to the Hospital cannot be over-estimated. It will make its impress upon our future as to the position we are to occupy in rank of like institutions, not only in this city, but in the whole Northwest; and in this connection let me say that the reputation of St. Luke's Hospital, and the position it now occupies in relation to other charities, is second to no institution of its size in this city or the West. Its patronage by all classes attest this. The Hospital has not only many admirers but many friends, from a large number of whom generous gifts have been received out of their abundance. We hope the wealth of this number may not be diminished, but their riches increased, and that their acts of charity may stimulate others who have not contributed to aid us in this blessed charity. Within the last decade many persons deceased, have left large bequests to charitable institutions, but for some reason St. Luke's has rarely been remembered, and yet it is one of the noblest charities of all. The Medical Board have frequently discussed the pressing need of more room, and better accommodations. They have many times been almost discouraged at the difficulties to be daily met in the care of so many human beings entrusted to them, and their utter inability to do for them as best they know, being hampered by their surroundings. All will testify to the fact that patients are retained in many instances days and often weeks longer than would have been required to accomplish the same results, simply on account of the physician not being able to place his patient under such influences as to hasten his recovery and thereby dismissal. Please think of the position of this Medical Board. While little in money is contributed by them, (for doctors as a rule do not possess money), yet they are uniting in their daily attendance, sacrificing business to keep "hospital appointments," and devoting to this work such a portion of their time as would be at a low estimate, one-tenth of their working hours, which to the doctor, as to the business man, fully represents one-tenth of his annual income. Could I pledge the business men who read this Report to contribute one-tenth of their gross earnings for the next twelve months, for the benefit and use of the Board of Direction, it would build an hospital upon the most approved and scientific principles, that would provide two hundred and fifty beds, and furnish and fit it complete; a blessing to humanity, an ornament to our city, and a monument to the memory of its contributors, that would endure while time lasts. Another matter of vital importance in the future growth and usefulness of St. Luke's is its dispensary. By referring to official report it is seen that while but 389 persons have been cared for, inside during the year, 1161 have applied and received treatment at the dispensary, and that number large as it is, does not represent the applications that would have been made, had it not been known that medicines would not be dispensed to applicants. On this account hundreds have been driven to other charities, being too poor to purchase medicines when prescribed for. What we most need, is the generous endowment of the dispensary. The sum of three hundred dollars required for the endowment of a bed, would only in the course of one year furnish care and attention to eight persons, when the same amount applied to the dispensary would relieve the distress and suffering of a thousand people. The dispensary is the nucleus around which all the great hospitals of this country have grown, as well as most of the famous hospitals of Europe. I remember one among the many seen that impressed me peculiarly; founded by Rayner, Minstrel to Henry the First, in 1123 A. D., suppressed by Henry the Eighth in 1537, re-founded by Sir Thomas Gresham in 1544, under royal charter "being moved thereto with great pity for and toward the relief and succor, and help of the poor, aged, sick, low and impotent people, infected with divers, great and horrible sickness and diseases." Founding a school of medicine in 1632, coming down through the centuries and giving to the world, such men as Harvey, Radcliff, Percival, Pott, John Hunter, David and William Pitarin, John Abernethy, Benj. Brodie, William Lawrence, and hundreds of others, famous in medicine, and even to the present self-supporting. Its thousands upon thousands of bequests invested so that it may be continued while time endures. It has at the present nearly 1,000 beds, in which they care for from 7 to 8 thousand people annually. But to the dispensary is left the crowning work of all. Their last annual report shows that one hundred and sixty odd thousand people received relief during the year.

St. Luke's Hospital is the outgrowth of St. Luke's Society, which was organized in 1833, and the Hospital under charter began its career in the spring of 1835, at 689 State street, this city, with accommodations for 15 patients. Its quarters soon proving too small, it was removed to its present location May 13, 1871, with 25 beds furnished. The fire of '71 created the necessity for larger accommodations, and through the assistance of the Relief Society its beds were increased to fifty (50) in number. Next year we will place before you the whole number of persons prescribed for and the amount of moneys expended from the organization down to the present time.

In the future as in the past, we look to you for aid to further develop this charity. Our city of a half million of people demands of us more ground, more buildings, and better accommodations for the work before us. All other charities are better provided. Give us generous assistance, it will vitalize anew the Board of Direction.

Sec'y Med. Board, St. Luke's Hospital.

- III.—You can, among your acquaintance, collect funds and forward them to the Treasurer, N. K. Fairbank, No. 61 Wabash Avenue.
- V.—You can organize Hospital Aid Societies in your church and among the children of the Sunday-school, by work or by subscription, obtain large sums of money.
- V.—You can send jellies, fruits and delicacies from your table, or canned fruit, clothes, linen rags—in short, anything that is useful in a house.

Open the hearts and hands of Thy people to give liberally of their substance for the carrying on of this work of love.
